MIDWEST SPECIAL SERVICES OPENS NEW CENTER IN JULY

New Oakdale Center Opens July 22

(ST. PAUL, Minn.)—Midwest Special Services, Inc. (MSS), a leading provider of individualized services for adults with disabilities, is opening the doors to its newest facility on July 22. The Oakdale Center, which will offer Day Training and Habilitation programs, will be the sixth and newest Midwest Special Services center in Minnesota.

The Oakdale Center was designed to offer a myriad of work, training, and recreational opportunities that are community and center-based. Innovative job skills training will be facilitated by eTrac[®], an online vocational training program developed by MSS. Clients will also be able to create and sell art work within the MSS award-winning creative arts program.

“This is our first center in Washington County and we couldn’t be more excited to offer our services to the East Metro community,” says Lyth Hartz, President of MSS. “We hope to build a positive relationship with Washington County through the highest quality of professional and personal care.”

“The Oakdale Center will showcase the best that MSS has to offer,” says Michelle Dickerson, Vice President of MSS Program Services. “Our professionally trained staff and creative programming will strive to stay one step ahead of expectations.”

MSS boasts 10 consecutive 3-year CARF Accreditations for efforts to continually improve the quality of service and expectations for Midwest Special Services programs.

About Midwest Special Services, Inc.
